

FAIR COURSES-1976

HOW THE SPIES WORK: The Tradecraft of Intelligence and Espionage

This course traces the beginnings of intelligence and espionage from antiquity to date in order to form a perspective from which to understand the working nature and tradecraft of the intelligence/espionage agent. Spies have always been of interest and in recent months have been front page copy. Provides an opportunity to examine current theory and craft covering a wide variety of procedures and techniques. Both foreign and domestic networks will be discussed. Mechanical methods, legals and illegals, double agents and defectors will be included as well as counter techniques as protective measures. Format: lecture, discussion and guest lecturers.

Course No: C-1-51-30-F1

Tuesdays, Sept. 14-Nov. 9 7-9 pm
(Except Nov. 2)
Rockville Campus Room 221 SE
8 Sessions Tuition $28; Text $2-3 R
R.J. Dompka